To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is in support of Christine Quah who has assisted the American College of Medical Toxicology (ACMT) since 2016. Over these past 5 years, Christine has become more than just a Helms Briscoe partner, but an honorary member of the ACMT staff. From helping us to develop our Request for Proposals (RFPs) to advising on locales, negotiating contracts, identifying last minute overflow options, and following up with hotels post event, Christine is an active member of our team from start to finish. She has guided us through city wide labor disputes, last minute venue cancellations, and emergency rebookings – she's always available to help guide us with the best advice.

Her real value shone during the COVID-19 pandemic during which my organization suddenly found itself in a position of having to cancel event contracts not just once or twice, but over and over again during a 2-year period. Christine worked tirelessly to negotiate our way out of these contracts, helping us to avoid huge cancellation fees that could have potentially crippled our small non-profit. She did all this work on our behalf all the while knowing that the cancellation of these contracts also meant that she wouldn't be receiving her well-earned commission.

ACMT owes Christine a huge debt of gratitude, and we are absolutely committed to working with Christine on all our events in the future. I highly recommend her for any of your event planning needs!

Sincerely,

Adrienne Dunavin

Re: Christine Quah, Manager Global Accounts, HelmsBriscoe

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This letter is in support of Christine Quah who has assisted the Society for Neuro-Oncology (SNO) in the site selection of our annual conference since 2010. Christine has proven to be a tremendous asset to our Society, vetting venues and presenting our Future Sites Committee with a range of candidate properties for consideration. She researches appropriate properties, negotiates concessions, provides thoughtful insight and opinions regarding differences between properties and their ability to best meet our unique meeting needs, and does so with a wonderful combination of professionalism and warm personal interaction.

In addition to core site selection services, Christine also provides assistance to SNO on many levels regarding hotel contracts, insight into trends, negotiations, etc. She is extremely responsive to all inquiries and goes "above and beyond" to proactively address problematic situations, overflow issues, technical glitches, etc. She frequently interacts with hotels on the Society's behalf when issues arise and always has the Society's best interest in mind.

We consider Christine to be a key member of our overall team and greatly appreciate the important role she plays in helping to make our conferences successful year after year.

I would wholeheartedly recommend Christine (and have in fact done so) to any organization seeking personalized site selection assistance.

Sincerely,

J. Charles Haynes, JD
Executive Director, Society for Neuro-Oncology

To Whom It May Concern:

For the past five years, Parent Heart Watch has counted on the exceptional expertise and guidance of Christine Quah and HelmsBriscoe. Christine understands the essence of our organization and makes our site selection process easy, which allows us to focus on meeting the needs of our membership and developing the best program for our conference.

Christine is extremely knowledgeable and always responds promptly when we have a question or request. I would highly recommend Christine to any organization planning a meeting or conference.

Sincerely,

Martha Lopez-Anderson

We have worked with our HelmsBriscoe Representative, Christine Quah for five years. She called us one day offering her services and we immediately thought that it was too good to be true. It wasn't. She saves us so much time researching and finding venues that meet our needs. Then Christine helps us nail down which venue would work the best for our event regarding every single detail. Working for HelmsBriscoe, she has the leverage to help us negotiate better deals than we were able to negotiate by ourselves. We trust her completely and know she helps protect our business. She looks out for the best interest of your business and takes the time to get to know you as a person. This helps her to go above and beyond our expectations with her customer service every time. I would highly recommend her services to anyone!
